

Prepositions

Definition:

A preposition is a word which shows a relation between a noun and a pronoun and some other words in a sentence.

Example1 - The jug is on the table.

The word on shows the relation between the jug and the table.

Example 2- The duck is in the pond.

The word in shows the relation between the duck and the pond.

Example 3- Sudha jumped into the river.

The word into shows the relation between the act of jumping and the river.

Example 4- The house is behind the tree.

The words behind shows the relation between the house and the tree.

The words on, in, into and behind are placed before nouns or pronouns and they show the relation between these nouns or pronouns and some other words in the sentence. These words are called prepositions.