

Fire

Fires may be started by faulty wiring carelessness or even arson. If a building catches fire, computers and the information stored on a network are at risk of being destroyed.

