

Content

To get the most value from an intranet, companies should ensure that intranet content is relevant and kept up-to-date. Companies should also make sure that information is easy to access. An intranet will not be widely used if it contains outdated information or information that is difficult to obtain.

