Easy Reconfiguration

It is simple to add, move or remove a computer from a hub or a series of hubs. A cable can easily be removed from a port on one hub and plugged into a port on another hub. The network does not need to be shut down or disrupted during reconfiguration.