

Balance In Nature

1. True or False:-

A. It is very important to maintain a balance between plants and animals.

B. If plants increase in number, than oxygen generated by animals will be sufficient for the plants.

C. To maintain a balance, it is very important to protect both plants and animals.

D. The balance of nature, also known as ecological balance.

E. The water cycle, various other cycles and food chains in nature help to maintain the balance in environment.

2. Fill in the blanks.

A. There is a balance between _____ and _____.

B. If we cut all the trees of the forests _____ will not get enough food or oxygen and will die.

C. We should avoid cutting down _____.

D. Care and protection of _____ is necessary.

3. Answer the following questions:-

A. What is meant by balance in nature?

B. Why is balance in nature important?

C. Write an example of Balance in nature?

D. How is balance in nature is maintained?

E. What are the movements that started for saving Trees?
