

Introduction of Food of Animals

Animals Also Need Food

As we human beings need food to live same as animals also need food to live. But every animal is different. Their habits living style is different.

So their food is also different. In this chapter we will read about food of all the animals that they all eat for living.

According to their food habits we can divide food of animals in the following categories.

