

Introduction of Different Occupations

Occupation

Occupation refers to the profession that is followed by a person. Teaching, medicine, engineering, writer are a few examples of different occupation. Occupation is a job that a person does. Different people have different occupations. In a simple language any work that we do to earn money is called occupation.

