

Insects

Insects are animals that have roamed the earth for at least 300 million years, so they have been around way before dinosaurs. If you go out looking for them, they can be found almost everywhere. Insects are the animals with a pair of antennae and two pairs of thin wings.

