

Introduction of Kinds of Animals

On our earth different types of animals are present, with different size and shapes. Animals are used for ploughing agricultural fields, they provide us wool for clothing, animals provide us milk, eggs, and domestic animals like dogs, cats help humans in recreation. Some animals help human in obtaining food. Animals were also used for transportation purposes in the past.

