

Dew

During the night, when it is cold in winter season, things like grass and leaves also get cold. In other way we can say in winter season the water is condensing on the leaves of grass that is called dew.

