

Frost

In very cold area the water droplet freeze and condense on grass it's cold for frost. In some extremely cold places the ground temperature falls below  $0^{\circ}\text{C}$  Celsius. It deposit itself on grass or leaves in the form of white powdery mass.

