

Purificaton

Filtration is a process in which the solid particles are separated from a mixture of solid and liquid mixture. All the impurities are removed by filtering water through filter paper.

