

Pollution

The harmful substances in the air, water and land that can cause harmful effect on the plants and animals is called pollution .The pollution impurities which pollute the environment are called the pollutants.

