

Simple Future Tense

Definition

The Simple Future Tense is used to describe an action that will happen in the future.

Formation

We form the simple future tense using:

Structure:

shall/will + base (root) form of the verb

- "Shall" is mostly used with I and we.
- "Will" can be used with all subjects (I, you, he, she, it, we, they).

Examples:

- I shall visit my grandparents next Sunday.
- She will buy a new mobile tomorrow.
- They will arrive here next week.

Usage

We use the simple future tense to:

1. Express future actions or events that will happen:
  - We shall meet him tomorrow.
  - She will arrive next month.
2. Give information about something that will take place:
  - They will attend Roma's birthday party.

Common Time Expressions

The simple future tense is often used with time words like:

- tomorrow
- next week

- next month
- next year
- this evening
- in a few days

Example Sentences:

- I will finish my project by the end of this week.
- She will arrive tomorrow.
- They will leave next week.

Examples from Exercises

Fill in the blanks using simple future tense:

1. My friends will bring me nice gifts.
2. My father will eat rice for dinner.
3. Rahul will write a letter.
4. Kanika will buy a ring.
5. He will wash the clothes.
6. I will finish my project by the end of this week.
7. They will leave next week.
8. She will arrive tomorrow.
9. I will invite my friends to my birthday party.