

Medulla

Its function is to connect brain and spinal cord. It also controls involuntary actions such as movement of heart and lungs. Medulla always works even when we are sleeping.

