

Dispersal of Seeds

- ⇒ A. This is also an important process in the production of plants.
- B. It is necessary so that every seed, growing into new plant gets sufficient sunlight, water, air etc for the process.
- C. A baby plant cannot grow near a parent plant as it will not get proper needed components.
- D. The transfer of seed from one place to another is called dispersal of seeds.
- E. In this process some agents are needed like wind, rain, birds, animals etc.

