

Balanced Diet & what do different food items contain

A diet that contains all the nutrients needed by our body in the right amount along with an adequate amount of roughage and water.

A balanced diet depends on the age of a person and occupation of the person.

